PLANNING FOR ELDER CARE

Workshop for Church leaders, both clergy and laity, and Caregivers

Workshop led by Helen Hunter ACSW LSW,
Certified Lay Minister
Assistant to the pastor for eldercare ministries, New Providence
UMC

As a response to the many ever-increasing issues facing today's elders and their families, this workshop is being offered to educate faith community leaders, so that they can develop an action plan working together with other interfaith communities to meet those needs.

The workshop will encompass the following:
Looking at the aging process, including specific diseases and the impact on the elder and their families.

Caregiving concerns

Family issues as it pertains to care for their elder loved one.
Dealing with end of life issues and working with the bereaved.

Specific tips on visitation-home, facility and hospital visits.

What services are available in the community.

What actions are faith communities called to do as a response.

Don't miss this important opportunity to prepare, discuss, and grow as a faith community in support of caregivers and elders in our communities.

The event is free of charge. A continental breakfast is provided.

9am-1pm
