06/02/1926 – 05/26/2016

Born in Freemansburg, PA and raised in Neptune City, NJ, Jay graduated Manasquan High School and proudly served in the U.S. Army 112th Cavalry as a Chaplain's Assistant during World War II, including time in post-war occupied Japan. After his discharge, Jay graduated in 1950 from Brother's College at Drew University, New Brunswick Theological Seminary in 1951, and Temple School of Theology in 1953 with a Master of Divinity. His work as a minister began in Jerseyville, followed by Cliffwood and Union Beach; Wesley in Bridgeton; Trinity in Clayton; Pemberton; First UMC Williamstown; Mauricetown, Haleyville and Port Elizabeth; Browns Mills and New Lisbon, Dobbins Memorial in Delanco; and finally Aldine UMC. Jay was active in community service, helping to found the Clayton Ambulance Corps and serving as a member of Mauricetown Ambulance Corps. He served as chaplain for the Malaga Camp and was a former member of the Board of Directors. He loved to sing, sang in the choir of each of the churches he pastored and was part of a quintet at the Pitman Manor where he lived in his later years. From the day he met Jesus until the day he died, Jay was a man of integrity and devotion to his Lord. He lived his faith, loving God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself. He was the same man at home as he was in public. His love, grace and character exemplified what a godly leader should be. He was predeceased by Ruth, his wife of 57 years, and is survived by four children all in Christian service: Rev. Paul (Linda) Amey, Carol Amey, Mark (Jodie) Amey, and Rev. Daniel (Debbie) Amey. Edward B. Cheney, Jr.

Ed Cheney was raised in the faith of The United Methodist Church and remained a member of St. Paul's in Penns Grove, NJ, along with his parents and four siblings, until he left for Miami University in Oxford, OH, to begin his studies in human behavior, social justice, religion, and art. He was called to ministry by the end of his years at Miami, and entered Drew Theological Seminary, to embark on 50 years of a career in pastoral care. He served churches in Titusville, Hopewell, Groveville, Point Pleasant, Parkside-Camden, Haddonfield, Millville, Red Bank, and most significantly, the founding pastor of St. Andrew's UMC in Cherry Hill. He also served as District Superintendent of the Northwest District, at that time in Hamilton Square. Ed retired to live on the South Seaville Camp Meeting Association, and to a part-time appointment at South Seaville UMC where he enjoyed 13 years in the fellowship, took dancing lessons, sang in the choir and played golf. His commitment to the ministry would not have been possible without the strength and love of his wife, Martha Sturgis Cheney. They led a life together as loving friends, supportive parents to John, Ruth, Lynn and Kristi, and progressive, liberal, open-minded citizens that lived out their Christianity in serving others, caring for each other, and celebrating and enjoying the differences in the Greater United Methodist Church, and the world around them.

Ellen Thompson Little

02/02/1942 – 07/21/2016

Ellen was born and raised in Akron, OH. Her parents, Don and Ruth, are fondly remembered as providing an idyllic childhood for Ellen, her younger sister Merry and brothers Terry and Denny. She completed an education degree at Kent State and began a career as a public school high school English teacher in an inner city setting during the late '60s. Ellen left Ohio for New Jersey in 1969 where she had her firstborn son, Kevin, and continued to pursue her passions while raising Kevin as a single mother. She married Rev. Charles Little, pastor of the Hackensack UMC, who had three sons of his own from his first marriage. Soon after, the couple had a daughter together, Christina.

Together Charles and Ellen raised their kids while Charles served at Alpine UMC, and later the majority of his tenure at Martinsville UMC. It was here that Ellen chose her calling to serve and completed her Masters of Divinity at Drew University where she later worked for the theology department. Eventually, Ellen served her own congregation at Wesley UMC in Edison and then left her parish for campus ministry with The Wesley Foundation at Rutgers University. She was a servant for the needy and made great contributions to local youth services, and later for the homeless. She found her final church family with the New Brunswick UMC which embraced her for the past many years. She called this church her home, and the congregation lifted her up and gave her a place to flourish at the end of her time here on earth. She is survived by children Kevin and his wife Lida, Christina and her husband Mike; and stepsons Craig, Mark and David and his wife Debbie; her three grandsons Geoffrey, John and Ken Little and two granddaughters, Sonya and Maya.

06/03/1939 – 06/06/2016

A Franklin Township-Somerset, NJ resident for 35 years, Elmer enjoyed walking Route 27 Southbound and nicknamed it “The Route 27 Prayer Corridor.” He attributes his love for walking as an adult to his discipline as a cross country runner for the Overbrook High School in Philadelphia, PA, as he served on the Champion Cross-Country Team. Elmer focused on “maximizing his strengths and strengthening his weak areas” and, therefore, was delighted to have returned to college at age 46. By 61, he completed three degrees. He was a lifelong United Methodist and loved pastoring the Sayreville UMC. Elmer loved reading and writing and preaching and teaching and taught Bible study at the Edna Mahan Correctional Facility for Women in Clinton, NJ, for over 20 years. He traveled internationally for over 25 years with his wife Florence. The two were married for 45 and a half years and enjoyed serving and retirement in the

Frances Ballinger

07/26/1946 – 11/04/2016

Frances was a proud mother, amazing grandmother, devoted wife, loving daughter, and a faithful servant of Christ. A native of Magnolia, NJ, Frances began her walk with God as a member of the Magnolia Methodist Church. The congregation of this small church loved and supported Frances as she grew up, graduated Sterling High School, met and married her soulmate George Richard Ballinger, and started a family. Frances returned that love by devoting her life to the church, as a member of the choir, a leader of the youth group, and by completing her Lay Speaker Certification. She attended Thomas Edison University and completed her education at Wesley Theological Seminary. She was proud of the appointments she served, and strengthened her journey with Christ through each, embracing them with all of her love and energy, and worked to ensure every member knew how important they were as children of God. Frances brought joy of God, family, service and life to those around her. She was received into the arms of God her Savior after a short battle with cancer. Many will miss her infectious faith. She is survived by her sons, Christopher and Andrew, her Daughter-in-law Deanna, her Grandchildren Laura and Andrew, and countless friends and extended family. All who were touched by Frances feel the pain of her loss, yet all may take comfort in knowing we shall meet again.

Fritz (Fred) Harz

12/06/1931 – 05/02/2016

Throughout his life, Fritz was a family man, a successful businessman and had belonged to numerous organizations. But what was most important to him was his faith and his relationship to God.

Whether he was reading his Bible daily, spending time in church or sharing his faith with anyone who crossed his path, he nurtured and fostered that relationship with God daily. He had this saying hanging in his bedroom and he lived by it every day of his life, "Peace on the Outside comes from knowing God within." In addition to his faith, Fred also always expressed his deep love for his wife Joan, their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. He cherished every moment he spent with his family. Fritz lived in Elmer all of his life. He loved the churches in his town. Easter sunrise service was on his lawn. He was a member of the Elmer United Methodist Church and served that church in every capacity imaginable; from heading the youth groups, singing in the choir to serving on the board, he continued to be an active member of the church throughout his life. He served as a local, state and national representative for the Methodist Church. He is survived by his wife, Joan (nee: Horner); children, Valarie and her husband Joseph Graciano and Eric and his wife Michele Harz; grandchildren, Adam Harz, Erika Pipitone, Ashley Cavallero and Neil Harz, six great grandchildren, Adelina, Zachary, Natali, Maggie, Mason and Gianna as well as his sister Anita Perry.

Majorie Eriksen

12/08/1941 – 10/11/2016

Majorie loved Jesus and her family. She extended loving kindness, an uplifting smile, and a patient, listening ear to all people, even to those who rebuffed one of her countless random acts of kindness to friends and to strangers. Marjorie had a special place of affection in her heart at all times for her colleagues in ministry at the Greater New Jersey Annual Conference. For Marjorie and her husband Neil, going to Annual Conference was a great and happy vacation-like pilgrimage and adventure where they could worship God in community with their dear friends and colleagues, along with the new friends that Marjorie would inevitably make wherever she traveled. Marjorie loved being a pastor and passionate Christian evangelist proclaiming Christ's Holy Word. She was proud to be an Ordained Elder in the United Methodist Church and had an infectious and highly contagious viral love for Jesus and for Christ's ministry. Marjorie retired in 2011 at the top of her

Marianne Malaun Smith

08/14/1943 – 08/23/2016

Marianne Malaun Smith met her husband of 51 years, the now retired Rev. Kenneth Smith, in a Kansas City, MO, English class. She studied Spanish and French in college, which prepared her to teach French in a New Jersey middle school as her husband attended Drew University School of Theology. Afterwards, the Smiths were blessed with the births of three sons. As the sons grew, Marianne returned to education, this time as a leader in the use of technology in the classroom. Marianne loved reading mystery novels, traveling, (especially to France), watching performances of modern dance, and visiting art museums. Her interest in the visual arts led her to direct the installation of banners celebrating the church year in several GNJ churches.

Mark O'Shields

08/27/1961 – 06/19/2016

Mark was a kind, gentle, humble soul who loved the Lord, his family and just about everyone. He enjoyed reading his Bible, spending time with God, traveling, exercising, playing his five stringed banjo, visiting shut-ins, but most importantly he loved to help Christians grow in their faith. During his life he was involved in the Malaga camp, Walk to Emmaus, Chrysalis, mission trips to Russia and Red Bird mission and helping to rebuild houses for A Future with Hope. He always wanted to be a hospital chaplain and talked about doing that after he retired, but the Lord opened up that door during his battle with lymphoma and he was able to minister to the patients and staff on the floor at University of Pennsylvania hospital. That was Mark, always thinking of others before himself. He was excited about becoming an ordained Elder and a husband and step-father.

Ralph Leon Barrett

07/28/1924 – 05/20/2016

Ralph was born in Collingswood where he was active in the Collingswood UMC. A veteran of World War II, he served in the Pacific in the Army Air Corps where he was assistant to the Chaplain. He received a B.A. from Asbury College in Wilmore, KY, and his M.Div. and MTS from Temple University in Philadelphia. Ordained a Deacon in 1952 and Elder in full connection in 1953, he served in seven appointments prior to his retirement in 1989: Camden: Centenary Tabernacle (Associate); Woodbury (Associate); Camden: Union and Kaighn Avenue; Somers Point, Little Silver; Haddonfield (Associate); and Manasquan. Ralph took great delight in music. For more than 40 years he and his wife Betty attended Friday matinee performances of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and the piano and accordion were his active instruments. He was adventurous, exploring new worlds and committed to continuing theological education through widely diverse reading, academic events and thoughtful workshops. He was courageous, committed to expressing with his daily life the Gospel values of his faith. He and his family participated in the 1963 March on Washington and were moved and challenged by hearing Dr.

Martin Luther King, Jr. After retirement, he served the Cedarville church part-time and later was an interim pastor for St. John UMC in Fordville. Surviving is his wife Betty Barrett (nee Wilson), residing at The Shores in Ocean City, NJ, and his daughter Patricia Barrett of Nashville, TN.

Thomas B. Naglee

09/02/1929 – 10/01/2016

In 1957, Tom, his father, Jacob, and his brother, David, were ordained at the same time by Bishop Fred Pierce Corson. Tom was a graduate of Union College in Barbourville, KY, and the former Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, PA. He was a pastor for 20 years at churches in what was then the Southern New Jersey Annual Conference. He retired from active ministry for health reasons but never retired from serving his Lord and Savior. Tom's second vocation was as a probation officer in Cape May County. For the past ten years, he and his wife Margie were residents of Pitman Manor and received excellent, loving care that made them feel at home. The hymns Tom chose for his service at Cape May UMC describe his relationship with God, "When morning guilds the skies my soul awakening cries. May Jesus Christ be praised" and "Nothing between my soul and my Savior."

He is survived by his wife, Margie, of almost 65 years, three children, Marcia (Jim) Kates, Tom Jr., and Ann (Chris) Jones, five grandchildren and four great granddaughters.

Vern A. Jensen

08/04/1932 – 05/03/2016

Vern Jensen grew up in the small farming town of Humboldt, IA, with his parents and two sisters. He heeded God's call to full-time ministry as a teen. After completing his studies at Drew Theological Seminary he went to his first church in what was then the Northern New Jersey Conference in 1956. Over the next 29 years, he served as the senior pastor of many churches in the conference, including Linden, Metuchen, and Morristown, and also served as a District Superintendent. He received his PhD in Counseling, which he loved to do, and was regarded as a wonderful preacher and teacher of the Word. Vern moved to South Carolina in 1985 and eventually settled in the Charleston area, where he joined the staff of Seacoast Church, overseeing their prayer ministry for 15 years. During that time he continued to preach and teach, led many small groups, and was committed to helping people find healing and wholeness through the ministry of Cleansing Stream. He authored four books including a weekly devotional; one of his personal story; and others on dating and marriage. Although he officially retired in 2012, just after his 80th birthday, he continued to passionately share the Gospel until the last day of his earthly life. He was a beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, dearly missed by all of his family; but above all, he was a beloved disciple and follower of his Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.
